Summary of the proceedings	Mr. Lokesh discussed about Quantitative Aptitude Tests evaluate numerical ability and problem solving skills of candidates. This test forms the major part of a number of important entrance exams for different fields. CAT, MAT, XAT, and GMAT and many other significant exams have Quantitative Aptitude as a major section. Speaker some important Tips to prepare for Quantitative Aptitude Test- <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Start from the basics: There is no set syllabus that you can strictly follow, in general. But if a particular test appraises you of the topics included, then stick to that. Otherwise go back to the basics of Mathematics, however easy you may think it to be. Follow your academic syllabus so that you can cover all major topics. • Concentrate on fundamentals: The basic concepts of the topics involved should be absolutely clear. Take guidance from your teacher if you get stuck on a particular topic. Do not leave any topic, even if it seems relatively unimportant, as questions can be asked from anywhere. Revise the concepts as and when possible. • Practice: Various entrance exams conduct Quantitative Aptitude as one of the papers. Solve previous year's papers and also model papers of these exams. This will help acquaint with pattern and structure of questions set. The key mantra to success is extensive practice and speed. Calculations of some of the problems can be quite lengthy and time is a major factor during the exams. Practice a lot to acquire speed. Look in the silly mistakes committed earlier and try to improve them.

- Take a systematic approach: First solve the practice questions topic wise and later attempt an entire paper. In the beginning you can solve the problems using conventional methods. Later, try out your own shortcut methods to increase speed. But be alert not to jump crucial steps which might confuse you later.

The insightful session by Mr. Lokesh Chadhokar ended with interactive question hour.

Summary of the proceedings	Discussing on the skills that are essential to have a long and successful career, Mr. Satyam Dhunde discussed on the changing landscape and macroeconomic, technological, social factors that influence careers after engineering. Sir demonstrated how India after the demonetization move, the Brexit Effect, the failure of Lehmann Brothers, the refuse infusion in the European world & the Donald Trump victory in USA have caused disruptions in the world. He stated how the global economy has begun its downward cycle and yet India, which is at its tipping point, can make the best out of the crisis. He also stated $100 trillion of investible assets being available and how India can encash upon the myriad opportunities that come its way since the pivoting of the axis is now towards the Eastern part of the world. Speaking about the problems that are plaguing India and hindering its growth, Sir pointed out how the burgeoning population is forcing the pressure on land for food and survival. There is already a food crisis in India and if not properly planned, we would be importing food. He also explained about the emergence of bots and IoT taking up jobs and making them redundant and yet innovation and technology are the keys for the human life to advance ahead. Towards the end of the session, Sir elucidated how market research, enhancing one's creative side and understanding the consumer behaviour is important for a marketer.

Objective To create awareness in the students for GATE Examinations.

Summary: The session was started with introduction about importance of GATE examination for engineers, then discussion was done about preparation strategy of GATE.

The examination is of 3 hours duration, and contains a total of 65 questions worth a maximum of 100 marks. The examination for all the papers is carried out in an online Computer Based Test (CBT) mode where the candidates are shown the questions in a random sequence on a computer screen.

A good GATE score is helpful for getting admission in to IITs, IISc, IIITs, NITs and many other renowned institutions. GATE qualification is also a minimum requirement to apply for various fellowships awarded by many Government organizations like DRDO, BARC, ISRO etc.

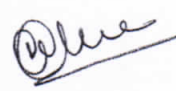

The session was ended with a brief discussion about Key points involved in preparation and opportunities offered after qualifying GATE examination.

The right side of brain, the nonlinear part, got to work when Mr. Lokesh Chadokar brought out a few videos, brain teasers and activities. Along with physical exercise, mental exercise is very necessary.

Activities like biss, buss and bus and making a pyramid out of two blocks and virtual football match got everyone more enthusiastic about the guest lecture. He also helped students to build their character.

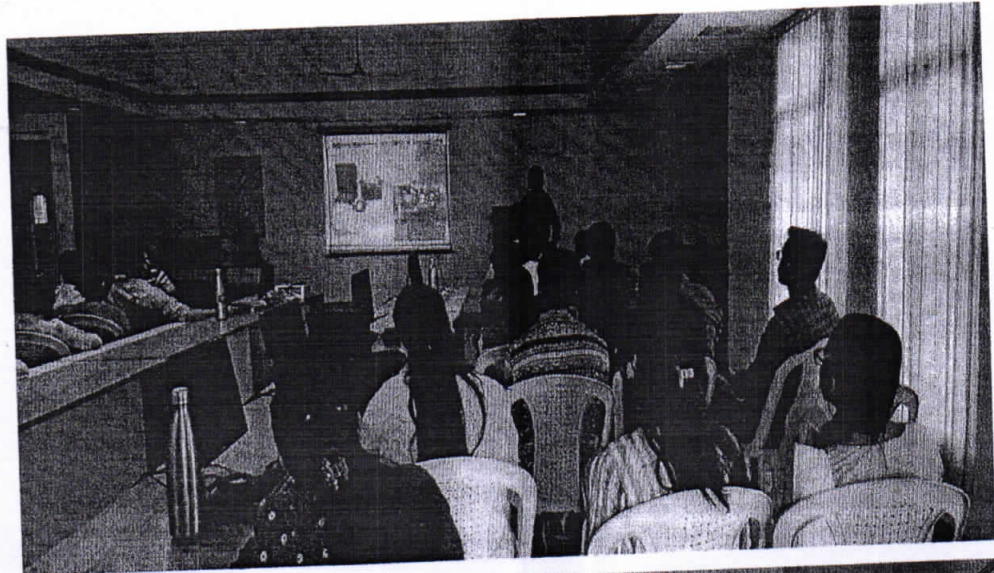

Why engineering? Sell, match, leadership. He gave us tips on how to sell ourselves in all interviews and other life skill. The session was concluded with action
